Esker Software appoints Noel Brown as their new Business Development Manager

SYDNEY, Australia, Thursday, 21 June 2005 – Esker Software, the leading provider of intelligent document delivery solutions, today announced the appointment of Noel Brown to the role of Business Development Manager.

Previously with HCi Pty. Ltd., (now Realisation) Brown was responsible for developing business, account planning and client relationship management, and brings with him eight years experience within the IT industry sales sector in both Australia and Europe.

With a proven track record in technology related sales roles, and successful client relationship management, in his most recent role, Brown worked with customers to deliver solutions in the area of document and business process solutions.

“Noel’s appointment is of great excitement as he possesses many skills in the management of technology related sales” said Managing Director of Esker Software Australasia – James Elkington. “We look forward to Noel bringing his expertise to Esker Software and Partners, enabling us to achieve company goals through solution selling techniques.”

Noel Brown will begin in the role on June 1st after attending training at Esker’s head office in Lyon France. Noel Brown will be based in Esker’s Sydney offices.
